

133380. Diospyros ebenaster Retz. Diospyraceae.

Black sapote.

Originally received from the Deering estate, Buena Vista, and presented by Dr. David Fairchild, January 1924. The tree is a vigorous grower of compact habit; the fruit, externally resembling a green tomato, has chocolate-colored flesh of pleasant flavor and good texture.

For previous introduction see 88366.

133381. Mimusops elengi L. Sapotaceae.

Originally received from the Department of Agriculture of Mauritius in February 1929. A vigorous, compact handsome tree with ornamental orange-colored fruits which pucker the mouth like a green persimmon. The tree is said to be used as stock on which to graft the sapodilla.

For previous introduction see 116051.