

PI 516471 to 516472-continued

PI 516472 donor id: S-213-2. origin: United States. locality: Burlington, Mineral County, West Virginia. remarks: Received 7/9/86 from J. Jacobs, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service. Perennial. Wild. Seed.

PI 516473 to 516475. Trifolium wormskioldii Lehm. FABACEAE

Donated by: Taylor, N.L., Department of Agronomy, University of Kentucky, N-122 Agr. Sci. Bldg North, Lexington, Kentucky, United States. Received August 14, 1986.

PI 516473 donor id: S-97-1. origin: United States. other id: A-13264-5/ S 1957. other id: CRC 2-61-58. remarks: Received 5/5/61 from E.A. Hollowell, USDA. received as: T. fendleri. Perennial. Seed.

PI 516474 donor id: S-97-2. origin: United States. other id: A-13004-46 S 1957. other id: CRC 2-61-57. remarks: Received 5/5/61 from E.A. Hollowell, USDA. received as: T. fendleri. Perennial. Seed.

PI 516475 donor id: S-140-1. origin: United States. collected: June 08, 1960. collector: B. Crampton. locality: Marin County, California. remarks: Received 6/1/66. received as: T. fimbriatum. Perennial. Wild. Seed.

PI 516476. Cornus mas L. CORNACEAE Cornelian-cherry

Donated by: Elsberry Plant Materials Center, USDA-SCS, R.R. #1, Box 9, Elsberry, Missouri, United States. remarks: Received through National Plant Materials Center, USDA-SCS, Beltsville, Maryland. Received January 15, 1988.

donor id: 9055585. origin: United States. collector: B.H. Slavin. other id: M1-204. locality: Bureau of Parks, Rochester. remarks: Small tree to 8m, hardy to zone 5. Flowers yellow (Feb.-Mar.), showy. Fruit abundant, scarlet, ripens August -Sept. Excellent survival rate, high vigor and growth habit. Potential conservation use in windbreaks, wildlife plantings, and landscaping. Cultivated. Seed.

PI 516477. Liriodendron tulipifera L. MAGNOLIACEAE Tulip popular

Donated by: Elsberry Plant Materials Center, USDA-SCS, R.R. #1, Box 9, Elsberry, Missouri, United States. remarks: Received through National Plant Materials Center, USDA-SCS, Beltsville, Maryland. Received January 15, 1988.